(2) 3. Engines for the Soviet Army were being overhauled, and AA armunition allegedly manufactured, in the building of the former Teichert & Solm sawmill on Wilhelmstrasse. The sawmill had been converted into an ordnance establishment before and/or during the war. Since 1947, about 500 workmen have been employed under Soviet supervision. To be self-sustaining with regard to ration supplies, the Soviet units in Liegnitz operated a number of large farms 50X1-HUM Among these farms there was a dairy farm at Pantendorf a cattle breeding farm at Bautmannsdorf; a sheep breeding farm at Ohlsdorf; a grain growing farm at 50X1-HUM Schandorf; a hog breeding farm at Malitsch; a chicken farm at Reppendorf; and a grain growing farm at Seifersdorf. It was said that these farms would eventually be returned to Polish authorities. 50X1-HUM Troops in Sagan 5. Prior to March 1951, the Artillerie Kaserne on Pahnhofstrasse, Sagan (0 52/B 26), quartered a Polish heavy motorized artillery unit which arrived in the summer of 1950, replacing a unit [ 50X1-HIIM which, in turn, moved to Bunslau (0 52/B 42). 50X1-HUM The Dachsberg Kaserne or Fanzer Kaserne at the northwestern porimeter of Sagan, on the north side of the highway to Sorau (0 52/8 16), was occupied by a tank unit which had numerous T-34 tanks and smaller tanks of an undetermined type. The Ell quarters 50X1-HUM of the installation were full. One Major Madovski, (fnu), allegedly a Soviet officer wearing a Polish uniform, was one of the key officers of the unit, (4) 7. Units in the two installations were supplied with fuel from a fuel denot at Niederullersdorf (0 52/B 15). 50X1-HUM Comments. The headquarters of the Soviet proops stationed in Polish-occupied Germany is known to be located in Liegnitz. It is not known whether this headquarters is still designated Mq Morthern Group of Forces. General Litvinov . No probably is the general of the same name who, according to Polish Facts and Figures of 5 March 1949, attended the ceremony on the occasion of the 31st anniversary of the Red Army in Warsaw. (2) Information on barracks installations in Liegnitz is incomplete, A barracks installation is located on Haynauerstrasse, in the northwestern sector of the town. Another barracks installation built in the '30's, is located in the northern sector of the city, on the east side of the road to Lusben. An old barracks installation, called Grenadier Kaserme, is located in the western portion in the center of the city, bordering on Mikolaistrasse in the north, Grenadierstrasse in the east and Weissenburgerstrasse in the south. The two installations which source referred to as Grenadier Kasarne probably constituted a billeting area. The barracks installation on Siegeshoehe is a large block of buildings in the southwestern sector of the city, which formerly quartered German AT artillery units and a hospital. It is probably the collective billeting area of the installations being located on Goldbergerstrasse and on Sieges- 50X1-HUM which hoche. The Dluga Kaserne is probably the old barracks installation north of the airfield, which formerly quartered the German 18th Sig Bn.

	Another military installation is located on Ritschenstrasse, from which Dovestrasse branches off to the north. It formerly housed the headquarters of the German lith Inf Div.  It may be an installation of the former German lir Force. Some of the aforementioned barracks installations are known to quarter Soviet troops  It is doubted that Polish Army units should be stationed in Liegnitz. Polish uniformed personnel may have been security troops.	50X1-HUN 50X1-HUN
